 2008 Top Publishers

The software industry is constantly changing, new publishers are constantly emerging, others are acquired, and yet others quietly disappear. CompuCom maintains relationships with hundreds of leading software publishers. The depth of the relationship is determined by the needs of our clients, market demand for the technology, long-term strategic relationship with the publisher and perceived publisher viability. CompuCom can streamline the procurement process for most software products on or off DGS leveraged procurement contracts.
